JUDGE SHOT DOWN ON BENCH

Sheriff and Commonwealth's Attorney Killed and Several Spectators Wounded When Relatives and Clanmen of Virginian Resent Sentence to Penitentiary—Man Who Caused Shooting Is Dying and Refuses Medical Attention.

Hillsville, Va., March 15.—Seven outlaws of the Virginia mountains, pursued by sheriffs' posse of seven counties, are making a desperate effort to make their way into North Carolina after murdering Judge Thornton Massie of the Carroll county circuit court; Commonwealth's Attorney William Foster and Sheriff Lewis Webb, and fatally wounding Dexter Goad, clerk of the court; J. H. Blankenship, a member of the jury, and John Mason, a spectator.

The tragedy occurred in the little courthouse at Hillsville just as Judge Massie had passed sentence on Floyd Allen, convicted of aiding a prisoner to escape. Allen was given one year in the penitentiary at hard labor, and Judge Massie had hardly finished passing the sentence when, from somewhere in the courtroom, came the words "That is hell, ain't it?"

Brothers Start Shooting.

Then there was the sound of a pistol shot, and in less than a minute the courtroom was resounding with the snapping of pistols, the curses of the outlaws and the cries of the wounded. The first shots were fired by Sidney and Jack Allen, brothers of the man on trial. Hardly were the words "That is hell, ain't it?" uttered before these two men, who were standing, came up to the rail where Floyd Allen was standing, whipped out their revolvers and began firing. Judge Massie, after the first shot, appeared as if to rise, but dropped back into the chair and fell dead with his head resting on his desk. State Attorney Foster appeared like he was endeavoring to reach the Allen brothers, but he had not advanced more than two steps when he sank to the floor, dying almost instantly. He is said to have been shot seven times. Sheriff Webb made a frantic effort to get at the Allen brothers, but by this time bullets were flying from all directions and the sheriff had taken but a few steps when he sank down and died within a few minutes.

The trouble started over a year ago. Two nephews of the Allens were arrested by a deputy sheriff. They were met on the road by Floyd

ASKED TO HELP PRIMARY SCHEME

Brown Suggests Method of Selecting Delegates.

Columbus, O., March 15.—In his official capacity as head of the party machinery in Ohio, Republican State Central Committee Chairman Walter F. Brown, in an open letter, asked Executive Committee Chairman L. C. Laylin his advice as to the best course to be pursued by the central committee in determining the manner of the selection of the six delegates-at-large to the Republican national convention and outlined his own views, which, in effect, are to let the voters decide between Taft and Roosevelt.

Mr. Brown favors the election of the district delegates to the Republican national convention by direct primaries in their respective districts. He then would have there 42 delegates, fresh from the people elect six delegates-at-large. He would have the state convention held after the national convention.

Bathtub Jury Disagrees.
Detroit, March 15.—Following a 10-hour deliberation by the jury in the case known as "the bathtub" trust, a disagreement was reached, the count standing seven for acquittal and five for conviction. It is quite probable that the government will order a new trial following the appointment of a successor to Judge Angell, whose resignation takes place the first of June.

REFUSES TO SEE HIS WIFE

Mrs. Grace in Her Cell In Atlanta Tower Becomes Hysterical When Told That Husband Who Charges That She Drugged and Shot Him to Secure $27,000 Insurance on His Life, Can Not Live, and Demands to Be Taken to His Bedside.

Atlanta, Ga., March 15.—With a smile on his face Eugene P. Grace heard his death sentence from the mouths of the surgeons who had just completed an examination of the bullet wound which he claims was made by his wife after she had drugged him. They told him that there was absolutely no hope for him and that death is only a question of time. A smile flitted over his face and he said to his mother, who was weeping: "Don't weep, mother dear. It is God's will, I reckon, and probably all for the best." Then Grace signed a statement reiterating that his wife shot him after drugging him, and that her motive was to secure $27,000 insurance he carried on his life. Mrs. Grace created a scene in the tower when informed her husband was slowly dying. She became hysterical and shrieked, "Take me to him, take me to him." When word was carried to Grace that his wife wanted to see him, the dying man said: "Don't bring her here. I don't want to see her."

KING OF ITALY SHOT AT BY CRANK

Queen Helena Proves Heroine In Trying Situation.

Rome, March 15.—Italians are justly proud of their beautiful Queen Helena, who demonstrated her willingness to sacrifice her own life to save that of her soldier-spouse, King Victor Emmanuel. After an anarchist assassin, Antonio D'Alba, had made an unsuccessful attempt on the life of the monarch, it was learned that the queen had deliberately interposed her own frail person between the king and the would-be murderer. Major Lanza, the king's escort, was wounded.

The queen was seated by the king on the side of the carriage from which the assassin made his attempt. She was first to see the frowning pistol barrel leveled toward the carriage and with the first shot threw her arms about her husband and shielded his body with hers. His majesty quietly forced her back into her seat and leaned forward, but by this time all danger had passed and D'Alba had been overpowered and disarmed. There was a brief exchange of reassuring words and then the king ordered the procession to proceed.

The king had just left the palace to attend a memorial service in honor of the birthday of his father, King Humbert, who was the victim of the assassin Goettant Bresci, who killed him on July 29, 1900, as the result of a plot hatched in the United States.

The assailant was roughly handled by the escort while being arrested, and was only saved from being lynched by the escort, which guarded him closely until he was locked up.

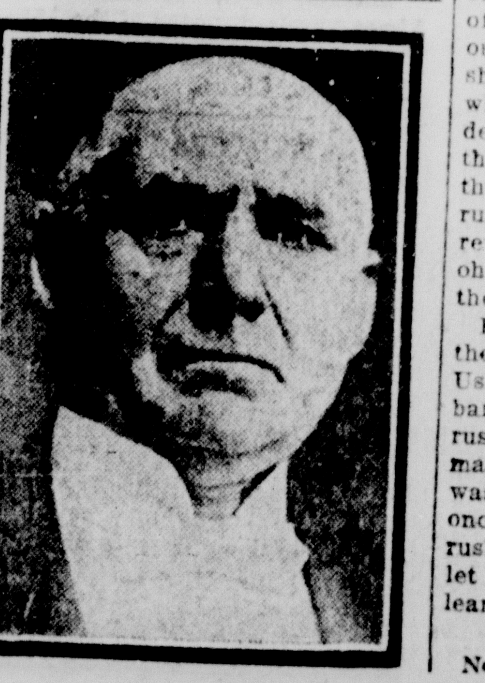

Faces Serious Charge

Minister on Trial For Death of Pittsburgh Girl.

Pittsburg, March 15.—With the hand of his wife tightly clasped on his arm, calm and seemingly confident of acquittal, the Rev. Dr. W. D. McFarland, aged United Presbyterian minister, began his battle in criminal court here to prove his innocence of causing the death of pretty Elsie Coe, his former secretary, by means of criminal operations.

Two witnesses, neighbors of the dead girl, who told the coroner's jury they were present when the second operation was performed, are relied upon to establish Dr. McFarland's connection with the alleged operation.

E-1 and E-2, Navy's Newest Submarines, Burn Crude Oil

SUBMARINES with masts are a new thing in the navy. The E-1 and E-2 are the first so equipped, the masts, which are about thirty feet high, being for wireless use. The two new boats are also the first of their kind to use the crude oil burning engines, which are expected to save money for the navy department, since they burn oil costing 3 cents a gallon instead of the gasoline used in other submarine engines, which costs 10 or 11 cents a gallon. The boats, which are shown as they appeared at the New York navy yard just before they started for Norfolk, are 135 feet long and are equipped with four torpedo tubes each. There is little room inside them for anything but the machinery and the 5,000 gallons of oil which they carry. Each has a crew of eighteen men and a mascot. On ordinary voyages submarines have tenders on which the members of the crew sleep, but the New York Norfolk trip was made without these. When the boats are sailing on the surface of the water the navigating bridges are surrounded with canvas.

KILL THREE IN PRISON ESCAPE

WARDEN IS AMONG VICTIMS

Rushes From Office When He Hears Shots Which Killed Deputy and Usher and Wounded Cellhouse Keeper and Is Shot Down by Three Bank Robbers Who Had Dynamited Lock—State Militia in Pursuit in Blizzard.

Lincoln, Neb., March 15.—Warden James Delahanty, Deputy Warden Charles Wagner and Usher A. C. Heilman were killed and Cellhouse Keeper Doody wounded by three prisoners at the Nebraska penitentiary, three miles south of here.

The three convicts then made their escape from the front entrance of the penitentiary and were swallowed up in the blizzard that is raging here. The killing was done by Convicts Morley, Taylor and Dowd, each sentenced for bank robbery. Morley has previously served in the Missouri penitentiary for murder. The trio shot Deputy Warden Wagner in his office, just off the chapel, which looks out in the prison yard. Doody was shot just outside the cellhouse, of which he was the keeper. The murderers, after blowing off the lock of the first steel door which leads into the public entrance of the prison, rushed the turnkey at the point of a revolver, forced him to unlock another door, took his keys and let themselves into the main corridor.

Before the men let themselves out they had shot Warden Delahanty and Usher Heilman by firing through the barred doors, the two men having rushed out of their offices into the main corridor when the first shot was heard. The warden was shot once and Heilman twice. As the trio rushed past the warden another bullet was fired into his body as he leaned against a door casing.

Other Prisoners Locked Up.
None of the other convicts attempted to escape. The turnkey immediately locked the remaining convicts in their cells.

As soon as news of the uprising reached the governor's office the local company of state militia was sent by special train to the penitentiary. Sheriff Myers and Chief of Police Hunter also started with posses.

Governor Aldrich directed that Adjutant General Phelps be put in temporary charge of the penitentiary. It is believed weapons were smuggled in to the convicts by former prisoners.

Word was received at the penitentiary later that three men had been seen going into a haystack about three miles west of the penitentiary. A spirit of unrest has been prevalent among the convicts for more than a month, and on Feb. 11 a negro convict, Albert Prince, fatally stabbed Warden E. D. Davis during the chapel service. No attempt was made at a general outbreak at this time, although the convicts were assembled in the pews.

Scalded Her Child

Amherst Woman Arrested on First Degree Murder Charge.

Amherst, O., March 15.—Mrs. Angelo Miragliotta, 32, was arrested on an affidavit charging first degree murder of Philip, 2-year-old babe of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Catalfo, by deliberately throwing him into a kettle of scalding water. The affidavit was signed by the child's mother. The accused woman will be given a hearing at Elyria this afternoon.

FEUDISTS HIDE

Pursued For Murder of Three Court Officials.

Judge Shot Down on Bench

Allen, who released them.
The Allens, it is claimed, have long been considered the most dangerous men in this section. They have a large following, and the average citizen is afraid to interfere with them in anything they attempt to do.

While it is generally believed that most people in Hillsville could identify every man in the band now hiding in the mountains, not a man can be found who will admit that he knows a single one of them.
Offers Reward For Capture.
Governor Mann increased the reward for the arrest of the murderers of the highest three officials of Carroll county from $1,000 to $3,000, in the hope of more speedily bringing the guilty parties to justice.

A long distance telephone message from Hillsville states that further bloodshed is expected on the arrival of the detectives commissioned by Governor Mann to go to the scene of the tragedy.

Floyd Allen is the only member of the "Allen gang" in Hillsville. He is lying in a hotel room, suffering from two gunshot wounds in his stomach and one in his side and a broken leg. His leg was broken as a result of being trampled upon by infuriated spectators who witnessed the shooting.

Following the escape of Jackson and Sidney Allen, pursued by the only remaining officers, Floyd Allen was removed to the hotel room, where his son Victor, heavily armed, stands guard and threatens to shoot anyone who attempt to enter his father's room. The wounded man refuses the aid of surgeons, and it is believed he will die.

The tragedy occurred in the little courthouse at Hillsville just as Judge Massie had passed sentence on Floyd Allen, convicted of aiding a prisoner to escape. Allen was given one year in the penitentiary at hard labor, and Judge Massie had hardly finished passing the sentence when, from somewhere in the courtroom, came the words "That is hell, ain't it?"

New York, March 15.—The conference committee of the anthracite mine workers, which is to meet the operators' committee today in what may be the final conference unless either side recedes from its position, spent most of the day in preparing an answer to the reply of the operators refusing their demands. President White of the United Mine Workers of America, who is the spokesman for the mine workers, said that no counter proposition would be made. They will stand or fall by their demands.

"It is up to the operators to make a counter proposition," he said, "and unless before midnight of March 31 the operators present such a proposition acceptable to us, work will suspend at once in the anthracite collieries. Not a man will work unless there is an agreement, and the country is now face to face with the greatest coal strike in its history."

A state bond issue for roads is a far-sighted investment which the people of a state should be eager to seize. It adds little or nothing to the individual's taxes and at the same time the improvements it makes possible will yield a daily and a golden return.

Bond issues are not ordinarily to be assumed without rare caution and conservatism, but when they are designed for the construction of a state system of roads they are justified in the outset as a means toward economy as well as progress.

"Gift of Tongues" Ministers Leave

Three leaders of the "Gift of Tongues" cult which has been attracting so much attention in Chillicothe the past few days owing to the interference by the police, have paid the costs in the case against them and agreed to leave the city forever.

No more meetings of the strange cult will be held in the old temple where meetings were held until objected to by nearby citizens. Others of the body say they will continue in their chosen religion.

Lady of 82 Years Fractures Her Arm

Mrs. J. C. Irvin, who has been spending the winter in Newark with her daughter, Mrs. D. H. Murphy, is now confined to her bed suffering from a serious injury sustained a few days ago when she fell and fractured her left arm just below the shoulder.

Mrs. Irvin is 82 years of age, and previous to going to Newark, made her home with Wesley Irvin, her son, who resides on Temple street, this city.

Mrs. Irvin's many friends in this city and county will deeply regret to hear of her serious misfortune.

The wagon ran over the prostrate lad, cutting a long gash across his forehead and otherwise injuring him. A physician was summoned and dressed the wounds. The little fellow is confined to his bed, but it is thought he will be out within a short time.

Whether the driver of the wagon was at fault, could not be learned.

Flow of Money Alarms Pastor

The unusual spectacle of a preacher asking his congregation to stop giving money to the church was presented at the Third Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, in Columbus, recently when the pastor, Rev. Dr. Charles C. Elson, told the people he had enough. He asked $2,000 and the hats collected $500 more than that.

Just before starting out on the morning sermon, Dr. Elson told the audience that the congregation needed just $2,000. He then preached a sermon from the text, "Render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's and unto God the things which are God's."

When a blackboard was placed on the pulpit and donations were asked they came so fast that the recorders got out of breath. Soon the pastor was forced to say, "Hold on there. You've got enough." The $5 pledges continued to roll in, however, and the choir was asked to sing the doxology and stop the flow of money.

State Poultry Fanciers to Meet

Morning, afternoon and night of April 19 will be devoted to the hen and her doings at a poultry institute which will be held at the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium on that day, under the joint auspices of the Ohio State University, the Ohio State board of agriculture and the Ohio State Poultry association.

In the morning and at night several important addresses will be made, but the afternoon has been set aside for the particular delectation of women. On that occasion there will be a series of demonstrations of killing and dry plucking by O. S. U. men. Trussing and boning fowls will be demonstrated by a large raiser of poultry, and preparation and cooking of eggs will be demonstrated by girls of the public school domestic science course.

The principal speaker of the day will be Professor A. G. Phillips of Purdue University. Another speaker will be S. P. Campbell, secretary of the American Poultry Association. All the meetings will be open to the public.

NO SCOUTS TONIGHT.

Owing to the Evangelistic services being held at Grace M. E. church, and the chicken-pie supper at the Presbyterian church, the Boy Scouts will have no meeting tonight.

Regular meeting next week will be held at the Presbyterian church Friday night, at 7 o'clock.

EARLY SHOWING OF NEW SPRING STYLES FOR MEN.

YOU consider yourself a sensible man. And very likely your friends and neighbors are willing to take you at your own estimate unless you do something to prove the contrary.

Now, be sensible about this matter of buying clothes. You are probably not a judge of fabrics. You don't pretend that you can tell all wool from part cotton. You don't pretend that you can judge of tailoring, to know if it is well done, and will "hold up" in the wear.

You do know the color and pattern that suits you. You know the style you like, and you can tell—or your friends can—if the clothes fit. What you ought to do in the things you can't judge for yourself is to take somebody's word for them.

The names Adler-Rochester, Hart Schaffner & Marx, or Michaels & Stern,

in a garment, answers every question of quality. And we give you our guarantee with that. You want all-wool and fine tailoring because they represent value that you can see.

For all the rest of it—pattern, color, weave, style, fit—we'll leave it entirely to you. They're the best clothes made, and we want you to see and wear them.

Drenan's Nose Bears the Brunt

The following dispatch from Owensboro, Ky., is believed to refer to Dave M. Drenan, a former resident of this city:

"Declaring that he would not permit the fair name of Kentucky women to be insulted or the memory of William Goebel slandered, a traveling man named Stevens, while standing at the Budd House bar, landed a tap on the countenance of D. M. Drenan, another traveling man, giving Cincinnati as his address, that sent the citizen of Ohio to the floor for the count. When bystanders raised the man to his feet and assisted him to the barber shop for repairs, it was found that his nose had been broken. After being 'repaired' Drenan left for Cincinnati."

Plenty of Years But Shy of Coin

James Scott, 76, colored, and Rachel Cole, 56, colored, are evident exponents of the marriage-not-a-failure doctrine, as both had been married upon two previous occasions, both had lost their two companions, and they applied for and secured a marriage license in the local Probate court Friday afternoon.

Stooped under the weight of his 76 winters, which had caused his abundant mop of hair to turn gray, and accompanied by the prospective bride who was 20 years his junior, Scott made application for the license to wed. In the questions and answers necessary to secure the permit, Scott said he was born in slavery in Kentucky, and that he served in the Union army during the Civil War. "I am not able to work," he said. He also stated that he could not remember his mother's name.

Mrs. Cole was born in Kentucky and her father was sold into slavery. When asked if he was intoxicated, or if he was an habitual drunkard, before Scott could answer the bride-to-be exclaimed, "He'd better not be!" Scott objected to paying $1 for the license, saying that he had gotten them for 75c before. When asked how he expected to pay the justice if the $1 "broke" him, he pondered a moment and said: "I guess I'll have to stand him off."

When last seen Scott was walking down street in search of Justice Koontz, while his wife-to-be remained at the court house.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cockerill of this city, who left the latter part of last week for California, were among the passengers on the Southern Pacific passenger train which was held up between Sanderson and Dryden, Texas, Wednesday morning, and in which express messenger David A. Like the other passengers on board the train, Mr. and Mrs. Cockerill were not aware of what had happened until the hold-up was so abruptly ended by two of the bandits being slain as above mentioned.

A state bond issue for roads is a far-sighted investment which the people of a state should be eager to make. It adds little or nothing to the individual's taxes and at the same time the improvements it makes possible will yield a daily and a golden return.

Bond issues are not ordinarily to be assumed without rare caution and conservatism, but when they are designed for the construction of a state system of roads they are justified in the outset as a means toward economy as well as improvement.

"Gift of Tongues" Ministers Leave

Three leaders of the "Gift of Tongues" cult which has been attracting so much attention in Chillicothe the past few days owing to the interference by the police, have paid the costs in the case against them and agreed to leave the city forever.

Lady of 82 Years Fractures Her Arm

Mrs. J. C. Irvin, who has been spending the winter in Newark with her daughter, Mrs. D. H. Murphy, is now confined to her bed suffering from a serious injury sustained a few days ago when she fell and fractured her left arm just below the shoulder.

Mrs. Irvin is 82 years of age, and previous to going to Newark, made her home with Wesley Irvin, her son, who resides on Temple street, this city.

Mrs. Irvin's many friends in this city and county will deeply regret to hear of her serious misfortune.

Wagon Hits Boy And Runs Over Him

Friday morning Theo. Edwards, the 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Edwards of East Market street, was seriously injured by being knocked down and run over by a wagon which was passing along the street just as the lad was in the act of crossing while on his way to school.

The wagon ran over the prostrate lad, cutting a long gash across his forehead and otherwise injuring him. A physician was summoned and dressed the wounds. The little fellow is confined to his bed, but it is thought he will be out within a short time. Whether the driver of the wagon was at fault, could not be learned.

Flow of Money Alarms Pastor

The unusual spectacle of a preacher asking his congregation to stop giving money to the church was presented at the Third Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, in Columbus, recently when the pastor, Rev. Dr. Charles C. Elson, told the people he had enough. He asked $3,000 and the hats collected $500 more than that.

Just before starting out on the morning sermon, Dr. Elson told the audience that the congregation needed just $3,000. He then preached a sermon from the text, "Render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's and unto God the things which are God's."

When a blackboard was placed on the pulpit and donations were asked they came so fast that the recorders got out of breath. Soon the pastor was forced to say, "Hold on there. You've got enough." The $5 pledges continued to roll in, however, and the choir was asked to sing the doxology and stop the flow of money.

State Poultry Fanciers to Meet

On that occasion there will be a series of demonstrations of killing and dry plucking by O. S. U. men. Trussing and boning fowls will be demonstrated by a large raiser of poultry, and preparation and cooking of eggs will be demonstrated by girls of the public school domestic science course.

The principal speaker of the day will be Professor A. G. Phillips of Purdue University. Another speaker will be S. P. Campbell, secretary of the American Poultry Association. All the meetings will be open to the public.

Red and Blue Contest Comes to Unexpected End

Sunday School Contest for Membership Gets Beyond Bounds and Reds Capitulate for Best Interests of the Society.

The Red and Blue contest in the Holland M. E. Sunday school came to an end in the most unexpected manner this week, but at the same time was a most successful contest, the end being due to too much enthusiasm which threatened to depopulate surrounding Sunday schools for two weeks at least, and after a careful consideration of the situation the Reds decided to capitulate and end the contest.

The contest for attendance waxed hot that the great numbers who had promised to attend the Sunday school the coming Sunday threatened to overwhelm the church and carry large numbers of members from other Sunday schools within eight miles of the "seat of war."

Both Reds and Blues worked with will, and the Reds were induced to capitulate only when it became apparent that the good of the society to a great extent depended upon it. Then, flying colors they acknowledged defeat, having been 35 members behind on Sunday, March 10th.

The climax of the contest—a great banquet—will be held in the church on Friday night, March 29, and more than half a thousand are expected to attend and enjoy the feast and a social hour.

In ending the contest the Reds issued the following notice:

"For the good of the Sunday school of the M. E. church at New Holland and the other Sunday schools in and near this place, we, the captain and lieutenants of the Red side, wish to acknowledge the defeat of the Red side, and bring this contest to a close. In order to win a victory, we would be compelled to have children and older people hauled here from other Sunday schools of our surrounding community, and we can not make ourselves believe that this is right, or for the best interest of the church. We want to extend our thanks and appreciation to those who have so loyally supported our colors, and hope that you, as well as the Blues, will continue to come and be regular attendants at our Sunday school.

To the Blues, we extend our congratulations, and wish to announce to you that we will help you serve the banquet on Friday night, March 29, 1912, in the basement of the church and will meet you with a smile and a hearty hand shake.

Annual Inspection And Banquet

Of unrivaled Knight Templar interest was the annual inspection by Right Eminent M. L. Firrell, grand sword bearer of the commandery of Knights Templar, of Garfield Commandery No. 28, K. T., and conducted with as much impressiveness as was possible in their present temporary quarters in the I. O. O. F. temple. Right Eminent Firrell was accompanied by Eminent Commander of the Reed Commandery of Dayton, H. C. Allen.

The work was begun at three o'clock in the afternoon and continued until 11 at night. There were 3 candidates, Ande E. Henkle, D. H. Barchet, Roy Mallow, Allen P. West.

At six o'clock the Sir Knights formed in line, an imposing body in their regalia and waving plumes and marched to the K. P. Castle, where they banqueted in the elegant banquet hall.

Covers were laid for a hundred plates, the long tables very inviting with spring decorations and relishes. Smith Brothers catered, serving an elaborate course banquet in excellent style. A smoker followed, but lack of time prevented toasts and the usual social hour after the banquet, and the knights returned to the lodge room for the completion of the work.

The inspecting officer was highly complimentary in his appreciation of the work. In charge of Eminent Commander, West Mallow. A finely trained drill squad of 12 knights was a leading feature.

Annual Inspection And Banquet

Of unrivaled Knight Templar interest was the annual inspection by Right Eminent M. L. Firrell, grand sword bearer of the commandery of Knights Templar, of Garfield Commandery No. 28, K. T., and conducted with as much impressiveness as was possible in their present temporary quarters in the I. O. O. F. temple. Right Eminent Firrell was accompanied by Eminent Commander of the Reed Commandery of Dayton, H. C. Allen.

The work was begun at three o'clock in the afternoon and continued until 11 at night. There were 3 candidates, Andra E. Henkle, D. H. Barchet, Roy Mallow, Allen P. West.

At six o'clock the Sir Knights formed in line, an imposing body in their regalia and waving plumes and marched to the K. P. Castle, where they banqueted in the elegant banquet hall.

Covers were laid for a hundred plates, the long tables very inviting with spring decorations and relishes.

Smith Brothers entered, serving an elaborate course banquet in excellent style. A smoker followed, but lack of time prevented toasts and the usual social hour after the banquet, and the knights returned to the lodge room for the completion of the work.

The inspecting officer was highly complimentary in his appreciation of the work, in charge of Eminent Commander, Wert Mallow. A finely trained drill squad of 12 knights was a leading feature.

MAKES GOOD REPORT.

County Engineer Cowen has submitted to the county commissioners a detailed report on every highway in Hamilton county, O., which is required under a new law to be made to the state highway commissioner, with a map showing the route of each road.

The report shows there are 747.65 miles of road in Hamilton county, exclusive of those within Cincinnati corporation lines, of which 438.94 are macadamized, 424.41 in water bound and 14.53 in bituminous system, 178.15 gravel and 129.56 dirt roads. During the year 38.18 miles of these roads were oiled. The report further shows that there now remain but 5.38 miles of pike on which toll is collected. The map shows the routes of the different roads and the kind of roads by colors.

To get some idea of what little expense bonds for roads will cost you individually, make some calculations on how much money it takes each year to keep some certain piece of bad road in repair, then calculate how much it will cost to rebuild this road of some substantial material that will cut out the repair expense; then apply the levy for road repairs against the interest on the money secured through a bond issue to build roads, and if we are not mistaken you are ahead in the deal. Not only this, but you have the use of these good roads for a number of years before there is any bond principal to pay. Be conservative; figure things right.

State bonds for roads will bring larger and quicker returns in increase of business, greater development of natural resources, increased value of all real estate, better social conditions, better homes, happier wives and more cheerful mothers than any other investment that can be made by any state.

No public improvement can have a more healthful effect upon a state than a comprehensive scheme to unite its various sections with good highways. The land owners cannot do it all, and it is just and right that all contribute through state bonds, which are preferable to a direct tax.

Late this afternoon Mr. Horace Ireland, son-in-law of Dr. J. W. Hughey, received the following telegram from Dr. Hughey's brother, with whom the doctor has been visiting for some weeks past at Lynn Haven, Florida: "Brother died last night. Will start north Saturday. J. M. Hughey."

Chicago, March 15.—The 10 Chicago packers charged with criminal violation of the Sherman law will submit their case to the jury without presenting any testimony. A state bond issue for roads is a far-sighted investment which the people of a state should be eager to seize. It adds little or nothing to the individual's taxes and at the same time the improvements it makes possible will yield a daily and a golden return.

Bond issues are not ordinarily to be assumed without rare caution and conservatism, but when they are designed for the construction of a state system of roads they are justified in the outset as a means toward economic development.

"Gift of Tongues" Ministers Leave

Three leaders of the "Gift of Tongues" cult which has been attracting so much attention in Chillicothe the past few days owing to the interference by the police, have paid the costs in the case against them and agreed to leave the city forever.

No more meetings of the strange cult will be held in the old temple where meetings were held until objected to by nearby citizens. Others of the body say they will continue in their chosen religion.

Lady of 82 Years Fractures Her Arm

Mrs. J. C. Irvin, who has been spending the winter in Newark with her daughter, Mrs. D. H. Murphy, is now confined to her bed suffering from a serious injury sustained a few days ago when she fell and fractured her left arm just below the shoulder. Mrs. Irvin is 82 years of age, and previous to going to Newark, made her home with Wesley Irvin, her son, who resides on Temple street, this city.

Mrs. Irvin's many friends in this city and county will deeply regret to hear of her serious misfortune.

Wagon Hits Boy And Runs Over Him

Friday morning Theo. Edwards, the 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Edwards of East Market street, was seriously injured by being knocked down and run over by a wagon which was passing along the street just as the lad was in the act of crossing while on his way to school.

The wagon ran over the prostrate lad, cutting a long gash across his forehead and otherwise injuring him. A physician was summoned and dressed the wounds. The little fellow is confined to his bed, but it is thought he will be out within a short time.

Whether the driver of the wagon was at fault, could not be learned.

Flow of Money Alarms Pastor

The unusual spectacle of a preacher asking his congregation to stop giving money to the church was presented at the Third Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, in Columbus, recently when the pastor, Rev. Dr. Charles C. Elson, told the people he had enough. He asked $3,000 and the hats collected $500 more than that.

Just before starting out on the morning sermon, Dr. Elson told the audience that the congregation needed just $3,000. He then preached a sermon from the text, "Render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's and unto God the things which are God's."

When a blackboard was placed on the pulpit and donations were asked they came so fast that the recorders got out of breath. Soon the pastor was forced to say, "Hold on there. You've got enough." The $5 pledges continued to roll in, however, and the choir was asked to sing the doxology and stop the flow of money.

State Poultry Fanciers to Meet

Morning, afternoon and night of April 10 will be devoted to the hen and her doings at a poultry institute which will be held at the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium on that day, under the joint auspices of the Ohio State University, the Ohio State board of agriculture and the Ohio State Poultry association.

In the morning and at night several important addresses will be made, but the afternoon has been set aside for the particular delectation of women. On that occasion there will be a series of demonstrations of killing and dry plucking by O. S. U. men. Trussing and boning fowls will be demonstrated by a large raiser of poultry, and preparation and cooking of eggs will be demonstrated by girls of the public school domestic science course.

The principal speaker of the day will be Professor A. G. Phillips of Purdue University. Another speaker will be S. P. Campbell, secretary of the American Poultry Association. All the meetings will be open to the public.

NO SCOUTS TONIGHT.

Owing to the Evangelistic services being held at Grace M. E. church, and the chicken pie supper at the Presbyterian church, the Boy Scouts will have no meeting tonight.

EARLY SHOWING OF NEW SPRING STYLES FOR MEN.

YOU consider yourself a sensible man. And very likely your friends and neighbors are willing to take you at your own estimate, unless you do something to prove the contrary.

Now, be sensible about this matter of buying clothes. You are probably not a judge of fabrics. You don't pretend that you can tell all wool from part cotton. You don't pretend that you can judge of tailoring, to know if it is well done, and will "hold up" in the wear.

You do know the color and pattern that suits you. You know the style you like, and you can tell—or your friends can—if the clothes fit. What you ought to do in the things you can't judge for yourself is to take somebody's word for them.

The names Adler-Rochester, Hart Schaffner & Marx, or Michaels & Stern,

in a garment, answers every question of quality. And we give you our guarantee with that. You want all-wool and fine tailoring because they represent value that you can see.

For all the rest of it—pattern, color, weave, style, fit—we'll leave it entirely to you. They're the best clothes made, and we want you to see and wear them.

Drenan's Nose Bears the Brunt

The following dispatch from Owensboro, Ky., is believed to refer to Dave M. Drenan, a former resident of this city:

"Declaring that he would not permit the fair name of Kentucky women to be insulted or the memory of William Goebel slandered, a traveling man named Stevens, while standing at the Rudd House bar, landed a tap on the countenance of D. M. Drenan, another traveling man, giving Cincinnati as his address, that sent the citizen of Ohio to the floor for the count. When bystanders raised the man to his feet and assisted him to the barber shop for repairs, it was found that his nose had been broken. After being 'repaired' Drenan left for Cincinnati."

Plenty of Years But Shy of Coin

James Scott, 76, colored, and Rachel Cole, 56, colored, are evident exponents of the marriage-not-a-failure doctrine, as both had been married upon two previous occasions, both had lost their two companions, and they applied for and secured a marriage license in the local Probate court Friday afternoon.

Stooped under the weight of his 76 winters, which had caused his abundant mop of hair to turn gray, and accompanied by the prospective bride who was 20 years his junior, Scott made application for the license to wed. In the questions and answers necessary to secure the permit, Scott said he was born in slavery in Kentucky, and that he served in the Union army during the Civil War. "I am not able to work," he said. He also stated that he could not remember his mother's name.

Mrs. Cole was born in Kentucky and her father was sold into slavery. When asked if he was intoxicated, or if he was an habitual drunkard, before Scott could answer the bride-to-be exclaimed, "He'd better not be!"

Scott objected to paying $1 for the license, saying that he had gotten them for 75c before. When asked how he expected to pay the justice, if the $1 "broke" him, he pondered a moment and said: "I guess I'll have to stand him off."

When last seen Scott was walking down street in search of Justice Koontz, while his wife-to-be remained at the court house.

Entirely to the surprise of their families and friends, Miss Opal Bryant, daughter of Mrs. A. J. Bryant, and Mr. Warren K. Briggs, son of Major Wm. Briggs, of New Holland, were married by Rev. T. W. Locke at Grace M. E. Parsonage Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Miss Donohoe accompanied the young couple to the parsonage for the ceremony.

Red and Blue Contest Comes to Unexpected End

Sunday School Contest for Membership Gets Beyond Bounds and Reds Capitulate for Best Interests of the Society.

The Red and Blue contest in the New Holland M. E. Sunday school came to an end in the most unexpected manner this week, but at the same time was a most successful contest, the end being due to too much enthusiasm which threatened to depopulate surrounding Sunday schools for two weeks at least, and after a careful consideration of the situation the Reds decided to capitulate and end the contest.

The contest for attendance waxed so hot that the great numbers who had promised to attend the Sunday school the coming Sunday threatened to overwhelm the church and carry off large numbers of members from other Sunday schools within eight miles of the "seat of war."

Both Reds and Blues worked with will, and the Reds were induced to resist only when it became apparent that the good of the society to a great extent depended upon it. Then, with flying colors they acknowledged defeat, having been 35 members behind on Sunday, March 10th.

The climax of the contest—a great banquet—will be held in the church basement on Friday night, March 29, and more than half a thousand are expected to attend and enjoy the feast and a social hour.

In ending the contest the Reds issued the following notice:

"For the good of the Sunday school of the M. E. church at New Holland and the other Sunday schools in and near this place, we, the captain and lieutenants of the Red side, wish to acknowledge the defeat of the Red side, and bring this contest to a close. In order to win a victory, we would be compelled to have children and older people hauled here from other Sunday schools of our surrounding community, and we can not make ourselves believe that this is right, or for the best interest of the church. We want to extend our thanks and appreciation to those who have so loyally supported our colors, and hope that you, as well as the Blues, will continue to come and be regular attendants at our Sunday school.

To the Blues, we extend our our congratulations, and wish to announce to you that we will help you serve the banquet on Friday night, March 29, 1912, in the basement of the church and will meet you with a smile and a hearty hand shake.

A SHAME.

With no disposition to criticise the the past or the present administration and with no intention of finding fault with any public servant or individual, it becomes the painful duty of The Herald to once more call attention to the awful condition of the street and the utter lack of street crossings at the B. & O. railway station.

That passenger station is of much more importance than any other passenger station in the city and is much more difficult to reach and to get away from than any other station. The great bulk of the passenger traffic both in and out of the city must be taken care of at this station. In addition to the fact that the B. & O. railway does more passenger business than any other railway entering the city and perhaps more than all others combined, there are two other railroads, the C. H. & D. and the D. T. & I. which put off and take on passengers at this station.

Paint street in front of the station widens out and the distance from the station to the south or "up town" side of Paint street is much greater than it is between the south walk and houses on the north side farther east on the same street. All the passengers who are compelled to go to that point to take trains and all who disembark from trains at that point, excepting possibly one in a hundred, either come from the opposite side of the street or must cross over to it. They are thus compelled to swim or wade through a sea of mud. The two antiquated old street crossings which were put in several years ago are now buried out of sight and out of reach of the thousands of feet seeking a firm place whereon to step, in a sea of mud.

It does seem that if the railroad will not or cannot be compelled to put down decent approaches to the station that the city should do so.

The work of providing a way to reach this station should not longer be postponed. Not only does it give the city an awfully "black eye" with strangers, when they are compelled to wade through this sink hole, but our own citizens are outraged by conditions.

A few nights ago one of our own citizens and a stranger reached the mud sea at the same time and the "Man from Home" did not seek to explain or to apologize for the conditions, when the stranger stopped dumbfounded on the brink.

It is a disgrace, all will admit.

Conditions should be bettered at once. And with this proposition all will agree.

Washington people are tired of the inconvenience to which this awful sink hole subjects them and tired of the disgrace to the city, and tired of the humiliation it causes them, when strangers are subjected to the same annoyances and they are willing to pay for better conditions.

The street should be paved and kept clean from south curb to station platform, from the east line of Hinde street to the D. T. & I. tracks. No little hinky dinky, two by four crossings, difficult to find in the bright sunshine of a summer day and absolutely impossible to find at night, will answer the purpose.

Our people want this nuisance removed and want it done right and want it done now.

How People Save Money in Europe

By Karl Bickler

The American people are prone to waste. It is a truism that a family on the continent of Europe will live upon what the average American family will throw away.

Even in small things this Yankee disposition to prodigality is manifest. For instance, the Germans, in their correspondence, use extremely thin envelopes, which proves their habit of saving in minor matters.

The German double envelope is not more than half as heavy as the American envelope of equal size. The thinness of the paper, of course, cuts down the cost of postage, and yet the envelope is clever and attractive, and does its work just as well as the bulky ones in use in this country.

It would seem that so good an idea would be copied on this side of the Atlantic, but so far no demand has been observed or else the American envelope makers would have busied themselves to duplicate the foreign article.

What Our Children Should be Taught

By James E. Sullivan, New York

Pupils in the New York public schools should be taught, above all, the fundamental principles of right living in connection with a most thorough and exhaustive drilling in the three R's, and what they embrace. Too much time and money are literally thrown away by compelling students to take special courses, such as manual training, music, painting, etc.

If the pupil has a natural ability to specialize let the parents pay for it and send him to a special school after he leaves the public school. Irksome school regulations engender a tendency toward lying and deceit. Superficial instruction in the three R's produces boys who can neither read, write nor spell correctly. Thus they are incompetent from the start for a successful business career.

Poetry—Today

A SLAM OF STRIFE.

Tell me not in mournful measures
That I made an empty vow;
I refute his word who treasures
Up that hasty promise now.

He's another Ananias
Who accuses me of that;
Or he has a foolish bias
In the meantime, there's my hat.

Not three terms in quick succession
That was what I wished to say,
If I gave a false impression
Let it now be cleared away.

Let us have no foolish beating
Of the devil round a stump;
Taft is busy, time is fleeting
Let us then be on the jump.

In the world's broad field of battle
I intend to play a part,
Every boy who rounds up cattle
Is for me with all his heart.

Old avowals are unpleasant.
Let the dead past bury its dead;
I am acting in the present.
Why hark back to what I've said?

Let me once again remind you
That if you should be sublime
You must put all else behind you
And let me lead all the time.

Let us then be up and doing
With a heart for any fate,
Still persuading, still pursuing
The unwilling delegate.

"Prince of Promoters" Career Ended by Death

John P. Martin, America's Most Widely Known Promoter, Dies in Xenia After Fifty-nine Years of Busy Life.

John P. Martin, former member of the State Board of Public Works, builder of the local water plant and well known to Washington citizens, is dead. His death occurred at Xenia and he will be interred there Saturday.

His death was due to a general collapse, brought on by overwork. He was taken ill two weeks ago while in Xenia, and was removed to the Wilcox hospital where his death resulted late Wednesday evening.

Mr. Martin was 59 years of age, was born at Loveland, Ohio, and went to Xenia when he was a young man. He married Miss Katherine Brody of Xenia. Upon the death of his wife a few years ago he went to Washington D. C. to make his home. During his business career he has been the promoter of a great many big business enterprises, and was widely known as the "Prince of Promoters."

He secured the water works systems of many Ohio towns, and also secured the construction of the Springfield & Xenia Electric road. A few years ago he became interested in the plan to dam Paint creek below Greenfield and allow the harnessed waters to furnish power for an electric road, but the other parties were slow in their work and he gave it up temporarily.

The deceased was the inventor of a mailing machine which is said to eclipse anything ever before introduced in its line. This was recently turned over to a company in Springfield to manufacture and place upon the market. He was always happy when engaged in some scheme of promotion, and most of the propositions have proven blessings to the community in which they were established. He secured the investment of millions of dollars in various enterprises.

John P. Martin is survived by a widow and four children. His last wife was a Miss Richardson, of Washington, D. C. Two of his children live in Washington, D. C., and two in California. One brother, Hugh Martin, of Springfield, and one sister, Mrs. James Little, of Xenia, also survive him.

Funeral services Saturday morning at 8:30 in Xenia.

Vogel Sues For Heavy Damages

An action for $250,000 was filed by John W. Vogel against the Delaware and Lackawanna railroad at Binghamton, N. Y., for damages sustained because of a railroad wreck at Chenango Forks, N. Y., January 23, in which his private car was partially demolished and two members of his troupe killed, several others being injured, incapacitating them for service.

The coroner rendered a verdict, charging the railroad with responsibility for the accident and Mayor Irving of Binghamton with Corporation Counsel Wilber of the same city, have been retained by Mr. Vogel to prosecute his claim. It is expected the case will be tried at the June term of the New York Supreme court.

Fayette English Bull Dogs Win

At the recent show of pure blooded dogs in Columbus, Mr. O. W. Creath, Mayor of Bloomingburg, exhibited a pair of English bull dogs which carried off two firsts and three seconds over a large number of entries.

The dogs, "Spot Dial" and "Billy Dial" are thus placed in the very front row of pure bred English bulls in America, as the show was open to the nation, and Mr. Creath is justly proud of the valuable animals.

"Spot Dial" won the two firsts and two seconds, while "Billy Dial" won one second.

No More Constipation ---WHEE!

It's Me for Olive Tablets!

That is the joy of thousands since Dr. Edwards' professed Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and Calomel's old time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated tablets.

They cause the bowels and liver to act normal. They never force them to unnatural action.

It is easy to compel bowel and liver activity for a time with calomel and nasty, sickening, griping castor oil, but the after effects are dangerous, and the real cause of the trouble is often not even touched.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are so easy to take that children do not regard them as "medicine" at all.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Olive Tablets at bedtime. They're perfectly harmless.

Thousands take one every night just to keep right. Try them.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

Slot Machines Ordered Removed

A number of slot machines were recently introduced in Bloomingburg but were in operation a short time until Mayor O. W. Creath ordered them all removed, and his order was complied with at once without protest.

Protest was made against the slot machines as gambling devices, and especially attractive to children.

Big Changes In Office Rooms

Workmen are busily engaged in making extensive changes in the McLean building on Court street, and when finished the entire second story will present a much more modern aspect.

Attorneys Rankin & Rankin have the entire suite of rooms leased for a number of years, and when the rooms are finished they will be most desirable offices.

New floors, windows, doors, replastering, and new paper and paint are working wonders in the rooms. The room occupied by Justice T. N. Craig will be the library and general office of Rankin and Rankin, while the present office will be a reception room. Two splendid private offices are immediately back of the main office. Justice Craig has sub-leased one of the smaller rooms. Dalbey & McCormick will also occupy one of the smaller rooms.

New office fixtures will be added as soon as the work of remodeling is ended, which will be within the next ten days.

MIXED MARRIAGES

In spite of the rain and mud last evening there was the usual large attendance of Catholics and non-Catholics at the Mission service at the Catholic church.

The Rev. Missionary preached a strong and eminently practical sermon on the "Occasions of Sin."

He spoke first of the saloon and drink. After insisting upon the great sinfulness of drunkenness, he advised those who have no craving for drink to become total abstainers and to be known as such in the community, for the sake of the "poor fellow who is down." Those who will have their drink, but never go to excess he advised to drink a regular amount at a fixed time and never to depart from their rule. "For those who cannot drink without going to excess occasionally, there is only one thing to do," he said. "They must be total abstainers, for for them it has become a proximate occasion of sin."

He then warned his hearers against the dangers of the sin of impurity—bad thoughts, bad reading, dangerous amusements, company keeping without a view of marriage, and lonely company keeping even in view of marriage. "Leave the doors open," he said, "stay where people can see you. What cannot be done with doors open and where people can see you must not be done at all."

He then took up mixed marriages as the occasion of the loss of Christian faith. "The real danger of mixed marriages, viz., the marriage of Catholics with non-Catholics, and the reason why Protestants, as well as Catholics ought to be opposed to them, is not that there is danger of the Catholic becoming a Protestant, or from the Protestant point of view, of the Protestant becoming a Catholic, but because the result in nine cases out of ten is that both parties end in being nothing, and their children are nothing."

He then described just how this loss of faith takes place, and ended by exhorting Catholics who intend to marry non-Catholics to do their utmost to make Catholics of them before the marriage.

The morning instruction was a very practical discourse on the duties of parents and children.

The subject of the sermon this evening will be the "Passions of Christ."

Columbus, O., March 15.—George Moore, 19, one of a trio arrested in Delaware Jan. 27 for burglary, now a prisoner in the Columbus work house, is said to be wanted at Dubuque, Ia., for attempted murder and other charges. He was known in Dubuque as "Bebe" or Leon Barrington, and with a companion escaped from the Dubuque prison nine days before the arrest in Delaware.

Socialist Lawyer Sues Village Mayor

H. F. Snyder, mayor of the village of Sugar Grove, Fairfield county, the man who recently brought action to prevent a man chosen by council from holding office, is one of three defendants in a suit for $5,000, brought by Wesley C. Bates, a socialist lawyer of Columbus. The other defendants are the marshal and S. D. Hensley, a prominent citizen, the trouble eventually growing out of the recent mixup over the office of mayor.

Bates charges that while he was acting as duly employed counsel of the village council of Sugar Grove on Monday evening, March 11th, in the discharge of his duty, Snyder did in a menacing manner threaten plaintiff with bodily injury and ordered him out of the council chamber and ordered him arrested and locked up wrongfully and maliciously by Adam Mills, who placed him under arrest and did strike, beat, jerk and otherwise abuse him at the command of Snyder who stood by and urged Mills on, abetting him in the act. He said Mills called upon Hensley to assist in the arrest which he did. Bates says his shoulder was badly wrenched and he was otherwise injured in the proceeding. Bates is acting as his own attorney in the case.

Big Changes In Office Rooms

Workmen are busily engaged in making extensive changes in the McLean building on Court street, and when finished the entire second story will present a much more modern aspect.

Attorneys Rankin & Rankin have the entire suite of rooms leased for a number of years, and when the rooms are finished they will be most desirable offices.

New floors, windows, doors, replastering, and new paper and paint are working wonders in the rooms. The room occupied by Justice T. N. Craig will be the library and general office of Rankin and Rankin, while the present office will be a reception room. Two splendid private offices are immediately back of the main office. Justice Craig has sub-leased one of the smaller rooms. Dalbey & McCormick will also occupy one of the smaller rooms.

New office fixtures will be added as soon as the work of remodeling is ended, which will be within the next ten days.

An action for $250,000 was filed by John W. Vogel against the Delaware and Lackawanna railroad at Binghamton, N. Y., for damages sustained because of a railroad wreck at Chenango Forks, N. Fayette English Bull Dogs Win

At the recent show of pure blooded dogs in Columbus, Mr. O. W. Creath, Mayor of Bloomington, exhibited a pair of English bull dogs which carried off two firsts and three seconds over a large number of entries.

The dogs, "Spot Dial" and "Billy Dial" are thus placed in the very front row of pure bred English bulls in America, as the show was open to the nation, and Mr. Creath is justly proud of the valuable animals.

"Spot Dial" won the two firsts and two seconds, while "Billy Dial" won one second.

No More Constipation ---WHEE!

It's Me for Olive Tablets!

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards' pro-digested Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and Calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated tablets.

They cause the bowels and liver to act normal. They never force them to unnatural action.

It is easy to compel bowel and liver activity for a time with calomel and nasty, sickening, griping castor oil, but the after effects are dangerous, and the real cause of the trouble is often not even touched.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are so easy to take that children do not regard them as "medicine" at all.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Olive Tablets at bedtime. They're perfectly harmless.

Thousands take one every night just to keep right. Try them.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

MIXED MARRIAGES

In spite of the rain and mud last evening there was the usual large attendance of Catholics and non-Catholics at the Mission service at the Catholic church.

The Rev. Missionary preached a strong and eminently practical sermon on the "Occasions of Sin."

He spoke first of the saloon and drink. After insisting upon the great sinfulness of drunkenness, he advised those who have no craving for drink to become total abstainers and to be known as such in the community, for the sake of the "poor fellow who is down." Those who will have their drink but never go to excess he advised to drink a regular amount at a fixed time and never to depart from their rule. For those who cannot drink without going to excess occasionally there is only one thing to do," he said. "They must be total abstainers, for for them it has become a proximate occasion of sin."

He then warned his hearers against the dangers of the sin of impurity—bad thoughts, bad reading, dangerous amusements, company keeping without a view of marriage, and lonely company keeping even in view of marriage. "Leave the doors open," he said, "stay where people can see you. What cannot be done with doors open and where people can see you must not be done at all."

He then took up mixed marriages as the occasion of the loss of Christian faith. "The real danger of mixed marriages, viz., the marriage of Catholics with non-Catholics, and the reason why Protestants, as well as Catholics ought to be opposed to them, is not that there is danger of the Catholic becoming a Protestant, or from the Protestant point of view, of the Protestant becoming a Catholic, but because the result in nine cases out of ten is that both parties end in being nothing, and their children are nothing."

He then described just how this loss of faith takes place, and ended by exhorting Catholics who intend to marry non-Catholics to do their utmost to make Catholics of them before the marriage.

The morning instruction was a very practical discourse on the duties of parents and children.

The subject of the sermon this evening will be the "Passions of Christ."

Inter-county State Highways

Main Roads to Be Designated, Named and Numbered.

CONTINUOUS AND CONNECTED

Township Trustees to Denote Value of Each Road in the Township, County Surveyor to Map, County Commissioners to Specify Kind of Roads, State Highway Commissioner to Determine Relative Importance and Value For Commerce and to Designate Main Roads of the State.

Columbus, O.—(Special)—In an interview given out here today, Jesse Taylor, secretary of the Ohio Good Roads Federation calls the attention of the voters of the state to the provisions of the act of the general assembly of June 9, 1911, and known as the McGuire bill, in so far as it relates to the inter-county system of roads.

The language of sections 8, 9, 10 and 11 of the act is found in the session laws, published by the state, or in Bulletin No. 14, issued by the state highway department, 18 as follows:

"Section 8. Within 60 days after the passage of this act, the county commissioners shall, upon request and under the direction of the state highway commissioner, cause the county surveyor of each county to make an accurate map or maps of the county of sufficient size to show distinctly the rivers, railroads, streams, township lines, the location of the cities and villages and public highways of the county, which highways shall be given a designated name or number; the original of such map or maps shall be carefully preserved among the files in the office of the county surveyor and a copy or blue print of such map or maps shall be forwarded to each board of township trustees in the county by the county commissioners immediately upon its completion, which copy or blue print shall be returned to the county commissioners with the statistics and information provided for in the following section. The county surveyor shall be paid from the county fund of the county $5 a day for actual time so employed and his actual expenses.

"Section 9. Immediately upon the receipt of the copy or blue print provided for in the preceding section, the township trustees shall proceed to denote the relative value of each road in the township in consecutive order as a used highway, the kind of traffic over such road, as well as the number of miles and the material used in the construction of improved roads when constructed and their present condition, together with such other information as may be desired by the state highway commissioner. These statistics and information must be compiled upon blanks to be furnished by the state highway commissioner and filed with the county commissioners within 30 days after receiving such blue prints and blanks. The township trustees shall be paid the per diem allowance by law for their services, for the actual time so employed, and the same shall be paid out of the road fund of the township, which shall be in addition to all other compensation allowed them by law.

"Section 10. The county commissioners, with the assistance of the county surveyor, shall compile from the statistics and information furnished by township trustees upon blanks to be furnished by the state highway commissioner, statistics and information concerning the roads of the entire county. They shall also specify what roads are national, state, county, toll, township or otherwise. They shall, within 120 days from the passage of this act, file the statistics and information specified, together with a copy of the several blue prints or maps, with the state highway commissioner, and may include in their report such additional information as they may deem of value, a copy of the report to be kept for record in the office of the county commissioners. If the county commissioners or township trustees fail to comply with the terms of this section, relative to maps and statistics, the state highway commissioner shall proceed to have the same done and deduct the cost of the same from any appropriation tion for road building which may be or may become due the county from the state.

"Section 11. It shall be the duty of the state highway commissioner and his deputies to determine from the statistics and information furnished the state highway commissioner, the relative importance and value for commerce of the various public highways of the entire state. They shall designate by name and number the main roads of the state which shall be known as 'inter-county highways'; and the parts thereof in each county shall be designated so as to form as near as practicable continuous and connected highways and shall designate the order of their relative importance within the county. They shall begin work as soon as the necessary information is furnished the state highway commissioner, and shall complete the work and file their report with the governor within 240 days from the date of commencing the work, unless further time be granted them for such purpose by the governor. So much of such report shall be printed under the direction of the state highway commissioner as he may deem necessary, and a copy thereof shall be immediately furnished the board of county commissioners of each county of the state and shall be carefully preserved in the office of the county auditor thereof. After the filing of such report the state highway commissioner may, subject to the approval of the governor, designate additional roads as 'inter-county highways'.

"The language of the law cannot be misunderstood by any intelligent reader and the duties and powers of township trustees, county surveyors and commissioners is very plain, the full compliance with which makes it the duties of local officials to present all the facts to the highway commissioner, from which he shall determine the relative importance and value for commerce and designate the inter-county roads so as to form as near as practicable continuous and connected highways.

"The map published by the Ohio Good Roads Federation is in no wise official, but was presented to the people to show the importance and value of a complete system of roads throughout the state, and no map showing the correct location of inter-county roads can be published until the township trustees, county surveyors and county commissioners fully comply with the law as to reports to the highway commissioner.

"The proposed amendment to the constitution to issue $50,000,000 for the purpose of constructing, improving, maintaining, repairing and rebuilding a system of inter-county wagon roads provides that such wagon roads shall be determined under general laws, and in determining the 'inter-county wagon roads' under general laws, which is sections 8, 9, 10 and 11 of the McGuire bill, which I have just quoted, the matter is referred to the township and county officers of the several counties of the state.

"Thus, the method for determining and laying out the inter-county system is provided for, the people of the state have all the material with which to construct the roads, thousands of men are ready to go to work on the roads, city people want better roads over which to haul their products, and every man, woman and child in the state demands better roads.

"The opportunity is here. The time is near. The money we must have to build the roads.

New Apportionment Announced. Columbus, O., March 15.—The official apportionment of state senators and representatives, based on the 1910 census, as announced by Assistant Secretary of State Sequest, shows that the next or Eightieth General assembly will be composed of 123 representatives and 33 senators, the Eighty-first of 123 and 33, the Eighty-second of 123 and 33, the Eighty-third of 124 and 33 and the Eighty-fourth of 125 and 37. The last house had 119 members and the senate 34.

Consider Labor Problems. Columbus, O., March 15.—Work was started by a special committee of the constitutional convention to determine upon a plan for the settlement of all disputes between capital and labor. Delegates Anderson of Mahoning, Stillwell of Cuyahoga and Tetlow of Columbiana were appointed a special committee to devise a plan by which a court of conciliation would be created and empowered to enforce its awards without conflict with the federal constitution.

Scores Success In Journalism

Former Washington friends will be interested in the success of Mr. Hugh Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allen, formerly of this city, now in Tacoma, Wash., in the field of journalism.

Mr. Allen has recently accepted the position of editor on the "Tacoma Times" and is showing an ability in his chosen profession that augers most promisingly for a brilliant career. He graduated from Ann Arbor, Mich., in 1907, and immediately was offered a position on the Cleveland Plain Dealer. Three years ago he accepted the position of city editor on a leading Seattle paper, and from Seattle goes to Tacoma to assume the management of one of the breezy western papers.

Mr. Allen is only 29 years old. He is a brother of Mr. Howard Allen of this city, whom he visited just before leaving for the West.

C. A. Glossner, 24 Ontario St., Rochester, N. Y., has recovered from a long severe attack of kidney trouble his cure being due to Foley's Kidney Pills. After detailing his case he says: I am only sorry I did not learn sooner of Foley's Kidney Pills. In a few days time my backache completely left me and I felt greatly improved. My kidneys became stronger, dizzy spells left me and I was no longer annoyed at night. I feel 100 per cent better since using Foley's Kidney Pills. Tonic in action, quick in results. Try them. Nervous, Debilitated and Run-Down

EITHER THE REST CURE OR TONA VITA WILL BUILD YOU UP AGAIN

If you are nervous, debilitated, and run-down in health, there are two things you can do to bring back your strength and vitality. You can go to a sanitarium and take the rest cure or you can secure the great modern tonic "Tona Vita" and let it build you up and furnish new nourishment for your shattered nerves.

If you knew what wonderful results have been accomplished by "Tona Vita" since physicians first introduced it in this country you would much rather take this tonic than to go to any sanitarium on earth. Here is a statement from Mr. J. B. House, of 381 Twentieth Ave., Milwaukee, Wis., who has tried "Tona Vita." "I was all run down, intensely nervous and suffered with the most violent headaches. I felt tired and dull all day, my body seemed benumbed at times, and I did not sleep well. My digestion was imperfect and I was continually constipated. As soon as I ate anything

my stomach filled with gas and I was distressed for a half hour or more. My mind was dull and my memory very poor. I contracted a cold easily and suffered with severe coughs. Sometime ago I talked with a physician who advised me to take "Tona Vita." I did it and am glad I did for the medicine was wonderful in my case. I feel as though I had a new lease on life. My ambition has returned as well as my strength and energy.

"I now sleep well and get up in the morning feeling cheerful and ready for work.

"My wife was also run down and nervous. She started taking the medicine when it began to help me. Her improvement has been fine and she is now in good health."

If you are run down and haven't enough strength it is your own fault if you feel miserable a day longer, when you can get such a preparation as "Tona Vita."

Brown's Drug Store, Court and Fayette streets is agent for Tona Vita in Washington C. H. and will refund the purchase price if it is not entirely satisfactory. The Approved Formula Co., Dayton, O.

Inter-county State Highways

Main Roads to Be Designated, Named and Numbered.

CONTINUOUS AND CONNECTED

Township Trustees to Denote Value of Each Road in the Township, County Surveyor to Map, County Commissioners to Specify Kind of Roads, State Highway Commissioner to Determine Relative Importance and Value For Commerce and to Designate Main Roads of the State.

Columbus, O.—(Special)—In an interview given out here today, Jesse Taylor, secretary of the Ohio Good Roads Federation calls the attention of the voters of the state to the provisions of the act of the general assembly of June 9, 1911, and known as the McGuire bill, in so far as it relates to the inter-county system of roads.

The language of sections 8, 9, 10 and 11 of the act is found in the session laws, published by the state, or in Bulletin No. 14, issued by the state highway department, is as follows:

"Section 8. Within 60 days after the passage of this act, the county commissioners shall, upon request and under the direction of the state highway commissioner, cause the county surveyor of each county to make an accurate map or maps of the county of sufficient size to show distinctly the rivers, railroads, streams, township lines, the location of the cities and villages and public highways of the county, which highways shall be given a designated name or number; the original of such map or maps shall be carefully preserved among the files in the office of the county surveyor and a copy or blue print of such map or maps shall be forwarded to each board of township trustees in the county by the county commissioners immediately upon its completion, which copy or blue print shall be returned to the county commissioners with the statistics and information provided for in the following section. The county surveyor shall be paid from the county fund of the county $5 a day for actual time so employed and his actual expenses.

"Section 9. Immediately upon the receipt of the copy or blue print provided for in the preceding section, the township trustees shall proceed to denote the relative value of each road in the township in consecutive order as a used highway, the kind of traffic over such road, as well as the number of miles and the material used in the construction of improved roads when constructed and their present condition, together with such other information as may be desired by the state highway commissioner. These statistics and information must be compiled upon blanks to be furnished by the state highway commissioner and filed with the county commissioners within 30 days after receiving such blue prints and blanks. The township trustees shall be paid the per diem allowance by law for their services, for the actual time so employed, and the same shall be paid out of the road fund of the township, which shall be in addition to all other compensation allowed them by law.

"Section 10. The county commissioners, with the assistance of the county surveyor, shall compile from the statistics and information furnished by township trustees upon blanks to be furnished by the state highway commissioner, statistics and information concerning the roads of the entire county. They shall also specify what roads are national, state, county, toll, township or otherwise. They shall, within 120 days from the passage of this act, file the statistics and information specified, together with a copy of the several blue prints or maps, with the state highway commissioner, and may include in their report such additional information as they may deem of value, a copy of the report to be kept for record in the office of the county commissioners. If the county commissioners or township trustees fail to comply with the terms of this section, relative to maps and statistics, the state highway commissioner shall proceed to have the same done and deduct the cost of the same from any monies tion for road building which may be or may become due the county from the state.

"Section 11. It shall be the duty of the state highway commissioner and his deputies to determine from the statistics and information furnished the state highway commissioner, the relative importance and value for commerce of the various public highways of the entire state. They shall designate by name and number the main roads of the state which shall be known as 'inter-county highways'; and the parts thereof in each county shall be designated so as to form as near as practicable continuous and connected highways and shall designate the order of their relative importance within the county. They shall begin work as soon as the necessary information is furnished the state highway commissioner, and shall complete the work and file their report with the governor within 240 days from the date of commencing the work, unless further time be granted them for such purpose by the governor. So much of such report shall be printed under the direction of the state highway commissioner as he may deem necessary, and a copy thereof shall be immediately furnished the board of county commissioners of each county of the state and shall be carefully preserved in the office of the county auditor thereof. After the filing of such report the state highway commissioner may, subject to the approval of the governor, designate additional roads as 'inter-county highways'.

"The language of the law cannot be misunderstood by any intelligent reader and the duties and powers of township trustees, county surveyors and commissioners is very plain, the full compliance with which makes it the duties of local officials to present all the facts to the highway commissioner, from which he shall determine the relative importance and value for commerce and designate the inter-county roads so as to form as near as practicable continuous and connected highways.

"The map published by the Ohio Good Roads Federation is in no wise official, but was presented to the people to show the importance and value of a complete system of roads throughout the state, and no map showing the correct location of inter-county roads can be published until the township trustees, county surveyors and county commissioners fully comply with the law as to reports to the highway commissioner.

"The proposed amendment to the constitution to issue $50,000,000 for the purpose of constructing, improving, maintaining, repairing and rebuilding a system of inter-county wagon roads, provides that such wagon roads shall be determined under general laws, and in determining the 'inter-county wagon roads' under general laws, which is sections 8, 9, 10 and 11 of the McGuire bill, which I have just quoted, the matter is referred to the township and county officers of the several counties of the state.

"Thus the method for determining and laying out the inter-county system is provided for, the people of the state have all the material with which to construct the roads, thousands of men are ready to go to work on the roads, city people want back to the country, farmers want better roads over which to haul their products, and every man, woman and child in the state demands better roads.

"The opportunity is here. The time is near. The money we must have to build the roads.

New Apportionment Announced. Columbus, O., March 15.—The official apportionment of state senators and representatives, based on the 1910 census, as announced by Assistant Secretary of State Sechrist, shows that the next or Eightieth General assembly will be composed of 123 representatives and 33 senators, the Eighty-first of 123 and 33, the Eighty-second of 128 and 36, the Eighty-third of 124 and 33 and the Eighty-fourth of 125 and 37. The last house had 115 members and the senate 34.

Consider Labor Problems. Columbus, O., March 15.—Work was started by a special committee of the constitutional convention to determine upon a plan for the settlement of all disputes between capital and labor. Delegates Anderson of Mahoning, Stillwell of Cuyahoga and Tetlow of Columbiana were appointed a special committee to devise a plan by which a court of conciliation would be created and empowered to enforce its awards without conflict with the federal constitution.

Scores Success In Journalism

Former Washington friends will be interested in the success of Mr. Hugh Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allen, formerly of this city, now in Tacoma, Wash., in the field of journalism.

Mr. Allen has recently accepted the position of editor on the "Tacoma Times" and is showing an ability in his chosen profession that augers most promisingly for a brilliant career. He graduated from Ann Arbor, Mich., in 1907, and immediately was offered a position on the Cleveland Plain Dealer. Three years ago he accepted the position of city editor on a leading Seattle paper, and from Seattle goes to Tacoma to assume the management of one of the breezy western papers.

Mr. Allen is only 29 years old. He is a brother of Mr. Howard Allen of this city, whom he visited just before leaving for the West.

C. A. Glossner, 24 Ontario St., Rochester, N. Y., has recovered from a long severe attack of kidney trouble his cure being due to Foley's Kidney Pills. After detailing his case he says: I am only sorry I did not learn sooner of Foley's Kidney Pills. In a few days time my backache completely left me and I felt greatly improved. My kidneys became stronger, dizzy spells left me and I was no longer annoyed at night. I feel 100 per cent better since using Foley's Kidney Pills. Tonic in action, quick in results. Try them. Nervous, Debilitated and Run-Down

EITHER THE BEST CURE OR TONA VITA WILL BUILD YOU UP AGAIN.

If you are nervous, debilitated, and run-down in health, there are two things you can do to bring back your strength and vitality. You can go to a sanitarium and take the rest cure or you can secure the great modern tonic "Tona Vita" and let it build you up and furnish new nourishment for your shattered nerves.

If you knew what wonderful results have been accomplished by "Tona Vita" since physicians first introduced it in this country you would much rather take this tonic than to go to any sanitarium on earth. Here is a statement from Mr. J. B. House, of 381 Twentieth Ave., Milwaukee, Wis., who has tried "Tona Vita." "I was all run down intensely nervous and suffered with the most violent headaches. I felt tired and dull all day, my body seemed benumbed at times, and I did not sleep well. My digestion was imperfect and I was continually constipated. As soon as I ate anything

my stomach filled with gas and I was distressed for a half hour or more. My mind was dull and my memory very poor. I contracted a cold easily and suffered with severe coughs. Sometime ago I talked with a physician who advised me to take 'Tona Vita'. I did it and am glad I did for the medicine was wonderful in my case. I feel as though I had a new lease on life. My ambition has returned as well as my strength and energy.

"I now sleep well and get up in the morning feeling cheerful and ready for work."

"My wife was also run down and nervous. She started taking the medicine when it began to help me. Her improvement has been fine and she is now in good health."

If you are run down and haven't enough strength it is your own fault if you feel miserable a day longer, when you can get such a preparation as "Tona Vita."

Brown's Drug Store, Court and Fayette streets is agent for Tona Vita in Washington C. H. and will refund the purchase price if it is not entirely satisfactory. The Approved Formula Co., Dayton, O.

RAT BITES BABIES WHILE THEY SLEEP

Snaps Arteries in Their Wrists as They Slumber in Their Basement Home.

ONE INFANT DIES

Animal Then Lurks Near Scene—Young Mother of Children Faints When She Sees Glittering Eyes of the Rodent Watching Her.

Chicago—Sorrow pervaded the basement residence of the Runge family at 2042 Dayton street the other day. In the small barely furnished living room the body of a three-months-old baby girl, a tiny, waxen, lifeless figure, lay.

Baby Emmett was dead, killed by a large rat that entered his crib and severed one of the infant's arteries with one snap of its sharp teeth.

In another room the nineteen-year-old mother, Mrs. Johanna Runge, nursed an older baby, who moaned fitfully and held up a small bandaged hand. Charles, fourteen months old, her first born, was the second victim of the rat, which attacked the two infants as they slept.

Charles is a healthy normal child who was never sick before. Three physicians in attendance were powerless to aid him beyond cauterizing an ugly wound in the hand, and blood poisoning at any moment may wrest the baby from its mother's arms.

Early in the morning as the young family slept the rat crawled into the three basement rooms in which the Runge family reside. The father, Henry Runge, who is twenty-four years old, got up once shortly after midnight to look at his babies. They were sleeping peacefully. Emmett in his crib at the foot of the parents' bed and Charles in a larger cradle in an adjoining room. The father returned to bed and neither parent awoke again that night.

At six o'clock Mrs. Runge arose to prepare breakfast for her husband. Emmett was lying in his crib, the

Arrested For An Old Offense

Constable Hugh Conard of Atlanta, Pickaway county, came to this city Thursday and arrested E. D. Ward upon a charge filed by a young woman of Perry township, Pickaway county.

The charge is an old one and it is claimed that nearly a year ago Ward was arrested, but walked away from the constable and had not been molested since that time until Thursday.

At the hearing before Justice John Wright, in New Holland, Friday morning the case was compromised by payment of $150.

FIND FATAL WEAPONS IN SUICIDE'S ROOM

Morphine and Chloroform Had Been Used—Others Were Held in Reserve.

San Francisco.—Every engine of self-destruction mentioned in the usual newspaper story of a suicide was found in the room of an unidentified man at the New Orleans hotel, 1411 Stockton street, the other day, when the proprietor of the lodging house broke down the door after getting no response to his calls. The body of the lodger was in bed and showed the man had been dead several hours.

Tied over the mouth and nostrils was a sponge which had been saturated in chloroform. Stretching down from the gas jet to the mouth was a rubber tube, although the gas had not been turned on. Beneath the pillow was a loaded revolver, and on a small stand by the side of the bed were an open razor, a bottle of cyanide of potassium and a quantity of morphine. The net result was death, probably caused jointly by the morphine and chloroform.

The body was well dressed, although there was nothing in the pockets or about the clothing to identify the man except a tag in the coat showing it was purchased from the firm of Puckett & Atterbury, Reno and Sacramento.

He was about thirty years old, five feet three inches tall and of medium build. He had chestnut hair, gray eyes, smooth face and two gold teeth in front. His clothing consisted of a green fedora hat, green overcoat with fine red and white stripes, and blue trousers with a brown stripe along the sides.

clothes saturated with blood. Mrs. Runge screamed and rushed to the cradle of the older child. The father joined her, and the distracted mother lifted the bloody hand of the second child from the covers.

Drs. Frank P. McGunn and A. C. Brill were called and the battle to save the babies' lives was begun. It was found impossible to save Emmett's life. He died in a few hours.

The doctors declare the teeth wounds to be those of a rat. Relatives were expressing doubt as to whether the rodent could have climbed into the cradles when Mrs. Runge suddenly rose from a chair beside her sick child and screamed to her husband: "Henry—behind you, the rat!"

In a corner of the room close to a hole in the rotted floor a large slate colored rat crouched, his small eyes glittering. Mrs. Runge had fainted; one of the watchers threw a missile at the animal and it vanished.

Woodes Thirty Years, Then Weds.

Noblesville, Ind.—Following a courtship of thirty years, during which the bridegroom called on the bride twice a week with the exception of one month, when he had typhoid fever, James B. Sturdevant at last popped the question to Miss Anna Earl and they were married in this city the other day. The bridegroom is forty-three and the bride thirty-six. They have been lovers since they were in school together. Sturdevant is a farmer and a heavy stockholder in several telephone companies in the county.

RAT BITES BABIES WHILE THEY SLEEP

Snaps Arteries in Their Wrists as They Slumber in Their Basement Home.

ONE INFANT DIES

Animal Then Lurks Near Scene—Young Mother of Children Faints When She Sees Glittering Eyes of the Rodent Watching Her.

Chicago.—Sorrow pervaded the basement residence of the Runge family at 2042 Dayton street the other day. In the small barely furnished living room the body of a three-months-old baby girl, a tiny, waxen, lifeless figure, lay.

Baby Emmett was dead, killed by a large rat that entered his crib and severed one of the infant's arteries with one snap of its sharp teeth.

In another room the nineteen-year-old mother, Mrs. Johanna Runge, nursed an older baby, who moaned fitfully and held up a small bandaged hand. Charles, fourteen months old, her first born, was the second victim of the rat, which attacked the two infants as they slept.

Charles is a healthy normal child who was never sick before. Three physicians in attendance were powerless to aid him beyond cauterizing an ugly wound in the hand, and blood poisoning at any moment may wrest the baby from its mother's arms.

Early in the morning as the young family slept the rat crawled into the three basement rooms in which the Runge family reside. The father, Henry Runge, who is twenty-four years old, got up once shortly after midnight to look at his babies. They were sleeping peacefully. Emmett in his crib at the foot of the parents' bed and Charles in a larger cradle in an adjoining room. The father returned to bed and neither parent awoke again that night.

At six o'clock Mrs. Runge arose to prepare breakfast for her husband. Emmett was lying in his crib, the clothes saturated with blood. Mrs. Runge screamed and rushed to the cradle of the older child. The father joined her, and the distracted mother lifted the bloody hand of the second child from the covers.

Drs. Frank P. McGinn and A. C. Brill were called and the battle to save the babies' lives was begun. It was found impossible to save Emmett's life. He died in a few hours.

The doctors declare the teeth wounds to be those of a rat. Relatives were expressing doubt as to whether the rodent could have climbed into the cradles when Mrs. Runge suddenly rose from a chair beside her sick child and screamed to her husband: "Henry—behind you; the rat!"

In a corner of the room close to a hole in the rotted floor a large slate colored rat crouched, his small eyes glittering. Mrs. Runge had fainted; one of the watchers threw a missile at the animal and it vanished.

Woes Thirty Years, Then Weds.
Noblesville, Ind.—Following a courtship of thirty years, during which the bridegroom called on the bride twice a week with the exception of one month, when he had typhoid fever, James B. Sturdevant at last popped the question to Miss Anna Earl and they were married in this city the other day. The bridegroom is forty-three and the bride thirty-six. They have been lovers since they were in school together. Sturdevant is a farmer and a heavy stockholder in several telephone companies in the county.

Arrested For An Old Offense

Constable Hugh Conard of Atlanta, Pickaway county, came to this city Thursday and arrested E. D. Ward upon a charge filed by a young woman of Perry township, Pickaway county.

The charge is an old one and it is claimed that nearly a year ago Ward was arrested, but walked away from the constable and had not been molested since that time until Thursday.

At the hearing before Justice John Wright, in New Holland, Friday morning the case was compromised by payment of $150.

FIND FATAL WEAPONS IN SUICIDE'S ROOM

Morphine and Chloroform Had Been Used—Others Were Held in Reserve.

San Francisco.—Every engine of self-destruction mentioned in the usual newspaper story of a suicide was found in the room of an unidentified man at the New Orleans hotel, 1411 Stockton street, the other day when the proprietor of the lodging house broke down the door after getting no response to his calls. The body of the lodger was in bed and showed the man had been dead several hours.

Tied over the mouth and nostrils was a sponge which had been saturated in chloroform. Stretching down from the gas jet to the mouth was a rubber tube, although the gas had not been turned on. Beneath the pillow was a loaded revolver, and on a small stand by the side of the bed were an open razor, a bottle of cyanide of potassium and a quantity of morphine. The net result was death, probably caused jointly by the morphine and chloroform.

The body was well dressed, although there was nothing in the pockets or about the clothing to identify the man except a tag in the coat showing it was purchased from the firm of Puckett & Atterbury, Reno and Sacramento.

He was about thirty years old, five feet three inches tall and of medium build. He had chestnut hair, gray eyes, smooth face and two gold teeth in front. His clothing consisted of a green fedora hat, green overcoat with fine red and white stripes, and blue trousers with a brown stripe along the sides.

Mrs. D. H. Jones returned to her home in Lima yesterday, after a visit with her mother, Mrs. O. W. Young.

Two Killed and Several Hurt in Fire at Hamilton.

Hamilton, O., March 15.—John Hunter, a fireman, was killed and William L. Love was fatally crushed when the high tower of the Butler county courthouse, in which they were fighting a fire, toppled inward, burying them. Both were thought to be dead when extricated, but Love, although not conscious, was still alive, but died in a local hospital.

Although the fire was kept in the two upper floors, the courthouse was so badly damaged that it is said it would be impossible to rebuild it. The loss is estimated at $150,000.

Among those most seriously injured were: George Fritz, fireman, may recover; Roy Oeg, arteries in arm cut by windowglass; Fire Chief William Doty, arm broken; Deputy County Clerk John F. Heath, cut and burned.

The fire started from crossed electric wires. The iron clock tower, above which was a huge bronze bell and a heavy bronze statue of justice, swayed above the flames a few minutes and then crumpled inward down through the floors and piling up a great mass of debris at the bottom.

The county records stored in the vaults of the clerk's office on the first floor were carried out by spectators and employees and it is believed all were saved.

The Law of The Land Says: TREES MUST BE SPRAYED BEFORE APRIL 30.

No argument is needed. It's simply a case of doctor the trees or pay a fine in no less than $25.00. Delay will be useless, and, if carried too far, will be expensive. The State has taken a hand in the fight to prevent and cure the diseases that are devastating the Ohio orchards. Universal compliance with the law will accomplish wonders.

READ THE LAW:

(Senate Bill No. 183.)

AN ACT To Promote The Growth of Fruit Orchards.

Section 1. One year from the passage of this act each owner or manager of an orchard consisting of ten or more fruit trees shall spray or cause to be sprayed said trees one or more time during the period from November first to April thirtieth with some suitable preparation for the destruction of the San Jose, oyster shell or scurvy scale.

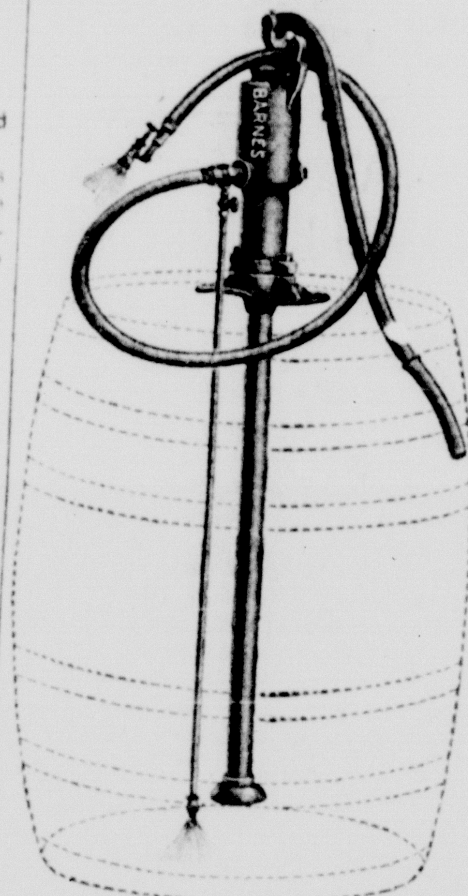

Section 2. Whoever knowingly permits a violation of this act shall be fined not less than TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS nor more than ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS FOR EACH YEAR such spraying is not performed.

Realizing the true situation The Herald Publishing Co. has undertaken to be of assistance to its patrons in this regard. We have succeeded in closing a deal with Willard E. Martin, Hardware Dealer, North Fayette street, whereby we are enabled to offer the public well known and honest made Spraying Machines, together with The Daily Herald or The Ohio State Register, at virtually the price of one. They are of the BARNES make, will last a life-time, and will be "sold to do the work." Aside from being indispensable for spraying the trees and vines, these machines can be put to other uses which make them necessary in either town or country.

—OFFER NO. I—

Barnes' Barrel Spray Pump.

This is one of the highest standards on the market and large enough to do the work on any Fayette county farm. It is designed to be applied to any common barrel, holding spraying mixture, and is supplied with 4 feet of hose, with self-cleaning, interchangeable nozzles and compressed air agitators.

With these machines it is possible to spray with ease the highest trees in any orchard. The fortunate owner can spray his vines, potatoes, gardens, etc., or can use the machine for washing buggies or whitewashing.

The Barnes Barrel Spray Pump sells at retail for $9.00, and can not be had for less. By special arrangement with Mr. Martin, we will offer these machines as follows:

- One Machine and The Ohio State Register three years.....$10.00
 - One Machine and The Daily Herald by mail one year.....$10.00
 - One Machine and Daily Herald by Carrier seven months.....$10.00

—OFFER NO. II—

This is a powerful and never-failing spray pump designed for the use of persons who have only a limited need for sprayers. Like the larger machines they are equipped with 4 feet of hose and self-cleaning, interchangeable nozzles, and aside from spraying the large trees, one can successfully use this little pump for all purposes for which the larger pump can be used. The regular retail price is $3.50 to all. By special arrangement with Mr. Martin, we will offer these machines as follows:

- One Machine and Ohio State Register three years.....$5.50
 - One Machine and Daily Herald by mail one year.....$5.50
 - One Machine and Daily Herald by Carrier seven months.....$5.50

Hatfield Feudists Attend Court and Threaten Jurymen.

Oceana, W. Va., March 15.—Terrified by the presence in the courtroom of over 100 members of the Hatfield clan, all of them armed, the jury in the case of the state of West Virginia against E. Willis Hatfield, charged with the murder of Dr. O. E. Thornton, brought in a verdict of voluntary manslaughter. Judge James Miller sentenced the prisoner to four years in the state penitentiary. The jury was afraid to bring in a more severe verdict because they had been threatened with death by relatives of Hatfield if they did so.

The killing was one of the most atrocious that has ever taken place in the mountains. Big Willis Hatfield, in a drunken condition and looking for trouble, requested Dr. Thornton, a prominent physician, to write him a prescription for whiskey, and on the refusal of the doctor to do so he drew his revolver and shot him through the heart. Hatfield is a nephew of Captain Hatfield, the noted feud leader.

MAN LOST AMBITION

It seemed strange to so active and energetic a young man as Arthur H. Scott of Brooklyn that he did not attack his work with the usual enthusiasm last spring.

He knew it was not "spring fever" for his health failed and, to use his own words in a recent letter, "I could not sleep, had no energy or ambition and could not do my work properly."

"I must say that Vinol has done me wonderful good for I feel strong and ambitious again, just like I used to before my health failed. I rest well at night, have a good appetite and no more nervousness, all because I took your excellent tonic, Vinol."

One reason Mr. Scott was willing to try Vinol was because he knew he could get his money back if Vinol did not benefit him. This delicious cod liver and iron remedy without oil, positively has no equal as a spring medicine, to enrich the blood and make weak, worn-out men, women and children, rugged, rosy and strong. Want to Run Moore.

Cleveland, O., March 15.—The Cuyahoga county Democratic organization endorsed State Superintendent of Insurance E. H. Moore, for governor, in answer to his plea for support by Harmon & Co. president.

The Law of The Land Says: TREES MUST BE SPRAYED BEFORE APRIL 30.

No argument is needed. It's simply a case of doctor the trees or pay a fine in no case less than $25.00. Delay will be useless, and, if carried too far, will be expensive. The State has taken a hand in the fight to prevent and cure the diseases that are devastating the Ohio orchards. Universal compliance with the law will accomplish wonders.

READ THE LAW:

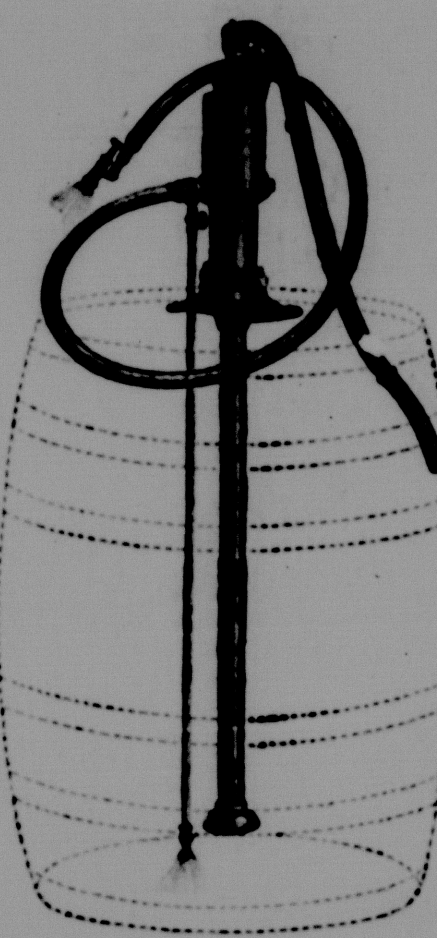

(Senate Bill No. 183.)

AN ACT To Promote The Growth of Fruit Orchards.

Section 1. One year from the passage of this act each owner or manager of an orchard consisting of ten or more fruit trees shall spray or cause to be sprayed said trees one or more time during the period from November first to April thirtieth with some suitable preparation for the destruction of the San Jose, oyster shell or scurvy scale.

Section 2. Whoever knowingly permits a violation of this act shall be fined not less than TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS nor more than ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS FOR EACH YEAR such spraying is not performed.
